A dove release was a perfect complement for the love this couple share.

For this wedding, the ceremony was done at the pond. The reception was both indoor and outdoor.

The guest list was about 200 friends and family.

The ceremony was held outside Cherith Hall's flower garden.

A full 4-course banquet was arranged for guests after the ceremony.

An elopement for a Navy couple.

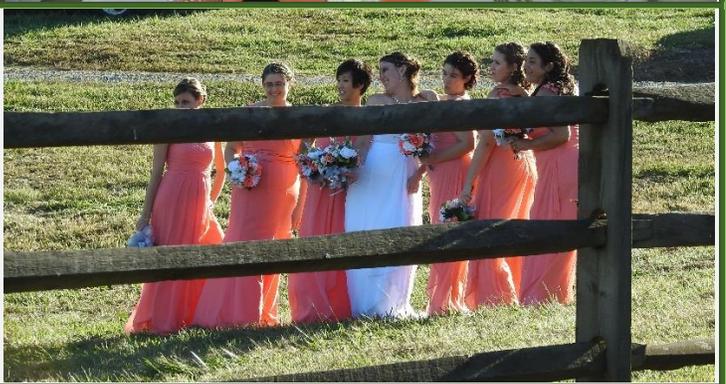

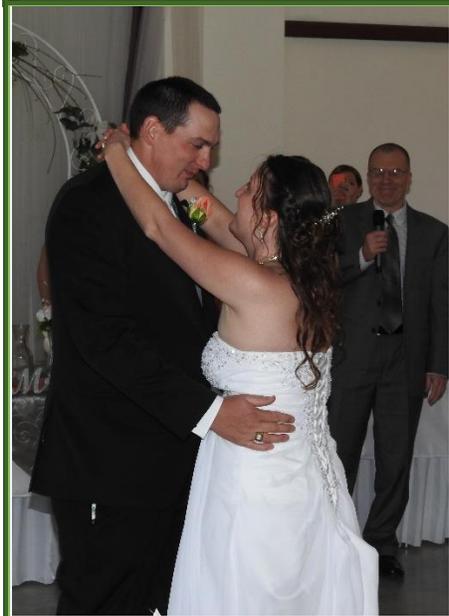

The ceremony was in the living room of the inn.

Photographs were taken by Cherith Hall photographer, outside around the Inn and inside the Inn.

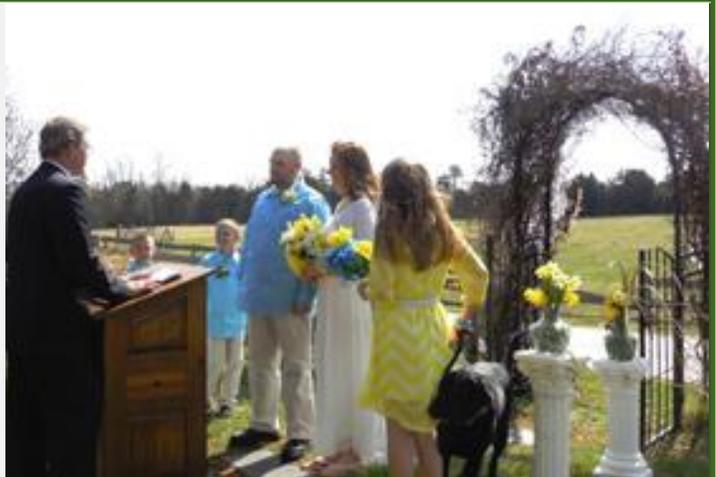

A traditional "Just Married" sign placed on their car's back window.

A blended family wedding; where even the family pet was included.

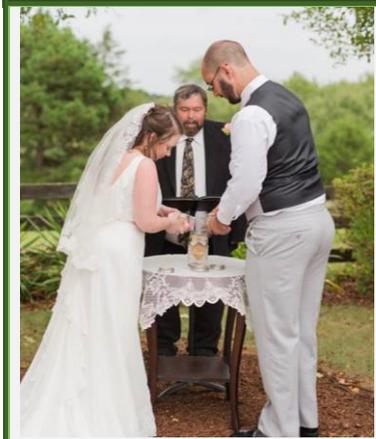

The Ceremony was preformed in the sitting garden near the Inn and Pastures.

And the two families became one ...

Happily ever after began at CornerStone Farm.

This wedding was a small wedding of about 30 guests. The ceremony was performed in the sitting garden and the reception in Cherith Hall.

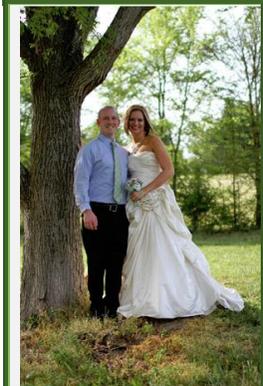

A great start for your wedding plans.

Ceremony was preformed pond-side.

Reception in Cherith Hall was a joyful celebration!

We were blessed to have this wedding done on at the CornerStone Farm. The groom was military and the bride wanted to be married in her traditional wedding dress from her native country.

The simple elopement wedding ceremony was held in the sitting garden beside the Inn.

All photographs were taken by our Cherith Hall photographer, on The Farm.

The bride.

Waiting for his Bride in the sitting garden.

Just Two – Bride and Groom. All decorations, including bouquet were provided by Cherith Hall.

Some couples requested use of our livestock in pictures.

This wedding was very casual. The ceremony was performed in one of our barns; as requested by the couple.

It was rustic and everything was just what the couple wanted.

A two dove release used as part of the wedding ceremony to show the love and commitment to the marriage.

Doves are available at CornerStone Farm.
